SERVICES

Outsourcing services we offer

Content Management System

Content management tools are very much needed when you need to store and manipulate moderate to large sizes of data regularly. CMS has a wide range of applications such as dynamic website management, Employee data management, and E-Commerce product data management.

Enterprise Cloud Web Apps

With the sharp decline of Internet data prices in India data consumption has gone up hundred folds. The cloud-based web applications are very much in demand globally as well as in India. Advantages of the cloud-based applications are negligible capital investment, no technology specialist required for managing infra, faster deployment, quick adoption, and lean learning curve

IOS App Development

Apple iPhones command 18% of the market share among premium phone users, any mobile app must be launched in the Apple App Store. We develop native apps in IOS. We do not develop hybrid apps.

Android App Development

Android dominates the smartphone market with over 85% market share. Many users consider Android as a de facto standard of smartphones. With 2.9 Million apps in Google Play Store, the app market is already overcrowded. It is a tough job to build an app that will be liked by the users. We play a vital role in building native Android apps.
